K. NO. 152 — FRESNO, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, JUNE 27, 1895 — PRICE—5 CENTS

...TUCKY DEMOCRATS

Hardin and Tyler Head the Ticket.

AN INCONSISTENT POSITION

A Silver Nominee for Governor on an Administration Platform.

LOUISVILLE, June 26.—The Democratic state convention of Kentucky has certainly indorsed the administration, paid tributes to President Cleveland and his distinguished advisor, Carlisle. Nothing was ever productive of more effective results than the address of Secretary Carlisle at the Memphis convention. The delegates, including Senator Blackburn, attribute their defeat to the recent speeches of Carlisle and the circulation that was given them. The free coinage men do not deny that they expected to control the convention and all the committees, the platform and the convention. They fought namely to a finish and acknowledged their defeat, although they make charges about the way it was done. The free silver men were beaten first in the district meeting that selected members of the various committees, in the selection of Judge W. M. Beckner for temporary chairman, Congressman A. S. Berry for permanent chairman and in the organization of the committee on resolutions, as well as in the organization of other committees.

Today they went down under the adoption of the minority report on credentials, selecting "sound money" delegates, and in the adoption of the resolutions indorsing Cleveland and Carlisle.

Senator Blackburn and other free silver leaders remained on the floor of the convention and fought to the last on the resolutions, after which they did not take much interest in the meeting. They were very bitter toward Auditor of State Norman, who was General Hardin's manager, and himself a candidate for renomination.

In Senator Blackburn's speech against the majority report he showed his feeling toward someone whom he had depended upon, while he referred very respectfully to Senator Lindsay, Congressman McCreary and others who had opposed him openly.

The convention is a record breaker in great speeches as well as in other respects.

The fight tonight between General Hardin and General Clay for the gubernatorial nomination was much closer than the Hardin men had expected. They state that, if they could have forced nominations yesterday, their man would have had 600 votes instead of less than 500, and admit that they were nervous all day. While Hardin held the silver vote almost solid, the Clay men could not get all the "sound money" men away from him because of his consideration for the minority organization of the convention and of his unusually strong personal following.

The silver men, as a rule, are feeling good tonight over Hardin's nomination, though Blackburn and some other silver leaders feel that Hardin did not stand by them and refer to the inconsistent position in which he now finds himself on an administration platform. Tonight Senator Blackburn said: "I do not feel sore, nor have I any heartburns. I realize, however, that it is impossible to win a fight against a combination of money and federal patronage."

General Hardin is as pronounced for free silver as Senator Blackburn, and made his race against Clay on that issue. He was not, however, objectionable to the many "sound money" delegates, and particularly after he had Judge Buckner, the temporary chairman, adopt a compromise plan in the organization of the convention.

On reassembling at 7.30 p.m. dilatory measures received almost an hour, when the name of General Cassius M. Clay was presented by George C. Lockhart for the nomination for governor. J. B. Breckinridge, the eloquent brother of W. C. P. Breckinridge, presented the name of P. Watt Hardin. Previous to the convention reassembling the hall was flooded with a dodger urging the convention to nominate either J. D. Black, W. J. Stone or A. S. Berry, and lauding them as candidates who were not bound to any ring, clique or faction, who had not been tainted by association with former malodorous administrations, and who could and would stand upon a Democratic platform. This dodger was denounced in all the nominating speeches and was regarded as aimed at Hardin.

There being only two active candidates an ovation was expected on the first ballot, but voting was watched with such close attention as to command perfect order.

There were 878 votes, necessary to a nomination 440. As the ballot proceeded several counties cast scattering votes for W. J. Stone, and the three mountaineers from Lee county voted for Henry Watterson. Rock county voted solidly for General Buckner, but no dark horses could stampede the well lined up forces of Hardin and Clay. Before the counties were all called it was evident that Hardin was nominated, and the Hardin men cheered at the last count, which responded with "More for Hardin." Before the result of the ballot was announced the Clay men moved that the nomination of General Hardin be made unanimous, and it was carried with a great hurrah. The result of the ballot was announced as follows: Hardin 468½, Clay 330½, Stone 76, Watterson 3.

Messrs. Henry Burnett, J. R. Harris and J. R. Breckinridge, were appointed to escort General Hardin to the hall. Meanwhile General Cassius M. Clay was called to the stage. He pledged sincere support to the ticket. He regretted the financial question had been brought into this campaign, which should have been on state issues and good home rule, but when the financial question was made the leading issue he took his stand for "sound money" and stuck to it. He congratulated the convention and its platform, and said that if the convention had adopted a plank for free silver at a ratio of 16 to 1 he would not have longer been a candidate and could not then have accepted the nomination if it had been accorded him.

When the committee escorted General Hardin to the hall there was the wildest scenes. General Hardin accepted the nomination in an eloquent appeal for harmony, without referring to any issues of the contest. He spoke very briefly.

For lieutenant governor the names of R. T. Tyler, M. B. Brown and Oscar Turner Jr. were presented. Tyler was nominated without counting the vote. The convention adjourned at midnight until 9.30 a.m. tomorrow.

Miss M. Adams left early this morning for London, England, by the Santa Fe route. She has resided for some time in East Fresno.

THE RAILWAY CONGRESS

Opened by the Prince of Wales in a Felicitous Speech.

LONDON, June 26.—The fifth meeting of the international railway congress was opened at about 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Imperial institute by the Prince of Wales in a felicitous speech. He paid special compliment to the American delegates, saying this was the first time the railway congress had the pleasure of welcoming them. He said while the hosts could not promise the delegates the beauties of Italy, or excel in splendor the reception accorded them by the late Czar at their last meeting, he thought it would profit them to visit the Manchester crew and other great works. He added that he would venture to say this to the delegates from the United States, that great country which owns one-half the railway mileage of the world.

After an address of welcome from the Right Hon. James Bryan, president of the board of trade, the congress adjourned to enter upon a series of excursions over the railroads of the United Kingdom. Tomorrow, Friday and Saturday the delegates will inspect the objects of railway interests in Lancashire and elsewhere. The first general meetings of the congress will take place on July 1st and 2d, and the first banquet (the number of delegates assembled being so great that two banquets are necessary) will be given by the Railway Company's Association at the Imperial Institute on July 2d, to be followed by a second banquet given by the same association on July 4th. The American delegates will attend the later banquet.

On July 3d, 4th, 5th and 6th there will be meetings of the congress, and during the afternoon of July 7th delegates will be received by the Queen at Windsor castle, her Majesty, however, desiring that only the leading members of the congress be introduced to her, but all others with their families will be free to roam about the castle and its groves. On Monday, July 8th, the Railway Company's Association will give a banquet at the Crystal palace, and the meetings will close on July 9th, to be followed by more excursions and an inspection of the famous Frith of Forth bridge.

THE WEBER MURDER.

POLICE ARREST JOHN KOBOLOFF FOR THE CRIME.

He is One of the Men Rescued by a Whaler and Brought to San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—John Koboloff has been arrested for the murder of the Weber family in Sacramento. Last December Mr. and Mrs. Weber were murdered in their home in Sacramento. Their skulls were crushed in with a hatchet and the house was robbed. On Christmas night a drunken Russian was arrested in San Francisco, but was released the next morning. In a cell occupied by him was found a watch which had belonged to the Webers. The police have been searching for this Russian ever since and have just found him. Recently the police learned that a Russian in this city claimed to know who had killed the Webers. They questioned him and he said that Koboloff had told him that he and two other Russians had committed the crime.

Koboloff has a remarkable history. In 1893 he arrived with nine other Russians on the whaler Cape Horn Pigeon. Koboloff and his companions had escaped from the notorious Russian prison on Saghalien island, off the coast of Siberia. They put to sea in a small boat, and after floating about for days and undergoing incredible hardships, were picked up by a whaler in the North Pacific and were brought to San Francisco. All of the men had committed crimes in Russia, and for a time it appeared as if Russia would demand their return. Nothing was done in the matter, and the men were allowed to go. They soon got into trouble, however. Two of them were caught entering a house for purposes of robbery, and were sent to the penitentiary. Others were arrested in various parts of the state for committing robberies. Koboloff has been identified as the drunken Russian who was arrested on Christmas night, and clothing found in his possession is said to have belonged to the Webers.

BRYAN AND QUINN SUED

For Alleged Shortages in Their Accounts.

EXPLANATION OF THE CHARGES

Cases Which Have Hung Fire for a Long Time by Consent of Government Officials.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—Two sensational cases which have never had publicity, although they have been in the United States circuit court for three years, were brought to light today. They are suits against two of the most prominent men in California who ever held federal positions, and who are alleged to be short in their accounts with the government. They were William J. Bryan, who was postmaster here under President Cleveland's first term, and who at the last election ran for assessor of San Francisco on the Democratic ticket, and John O. Quinn, who was internal revenue collector of this district under President Harrison.

It is alleged that Bryan embezzled $9399 and that Quinn embezzled $5831.33 during their term of office. The bondsmen of each official were made defendants in the suits to recover the money.

Bryan's securities were Jesse D Carr, William Mathews, W. W. Stow and Henry Miller. Their bond was $300,000.

Quinn's bondsmen were George D. McLean, Norman D. Rideout, Percy Beadish, W. W. Stow and Samuel W. Backus. Their bond was for $100,000.

The facts leaked out when the United States district attorney asked to have the estate of W. W. Stow substituted for W. W. Stow as bondsman and defendant in the suits.

Great secrecy has been maintained about the suit.

The charge against Bryan is he received $9399 for the sale of postage stamps, which he did not turn over to the government.

Quinn's embezzlement is said to be of revenue moneys in two amounts—$3135.60 and $2695.62. The complaint in Quinn's case says: "Quinn did not well and faithfully perform the duties of his office. He received moneys and did not honestly pay over sums due the government."

In the cases of Bryan and Quinn an explanation of the sensational charges has been offered.

In the case of ex-Postmaster Bryan it is to the effect that the shortage for which he is legally responsible was made not by himself, but by one of his former employes, James Kennedy, who occupied the position of foreign money order clerk. While acting as such he handled considerable sums, and it was a matter of difficulty for him to appropriate whatever amount he desired. He was finally found out, however, arrested, tried and convicted and sentenced to six years imprisonment. Before the end of his term he was pardoned, and is now said to be leading an exemplary life.

The suit against ex-collector Quinn also grew out of the defalcations of a subordinate, who made certain collections in the Fresno district, which he appropriated to his own use. When arrested he pleaded guilty before Judge Ross of the southern district, and also served a term in prison.

The cases have hung fire for a long time with the consent of the government officials in order to allow the friends of the ex-United States officials to endeavor to induce congress to take such action as would relieve them of the responsibility for the money lost through the action of their subordinates.

He Was Caught at Last.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kas., June 26.—Rev. W. T. Broadhurst, pastor of the M. E. Church, South, who a few days ago was found in a compromising position with a woman of his congregation, publishes the following card today: "It is due to the public that I make this confession. I am a fallen preacher after twenty-one years of work in the M. E. church. I have resisted thousands of temptations, but was caught at last. My sin is such that I make no defense." He has resigned his pastorate. He is well known throughout the West.

Horse Thieves Captured.

LOS ANGELES, June 26.—Sheriff Burr has just broken up a gang of horse thieves and he and his deputies have captured two men who are supposed to be the leaders of the gang. One of the men, Alfred O. Reyno, was arrested a day or two ago. Last night the sheriff got Juan Lopez and today swore out a warrant against him. Horse thieving has been going on in southern California for months, and it is believed these Mexicans are responsible for the loss of nearly all the horses stolen.

Woman Shot by a Japanese.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—A discharged Japanese cook went to the club house of the Pacific Yacht Club in Sausalito this afternoon and shot Mrs. Doler, wife of the club steward. Mrs. Doler's wounds are not fatal. When Doler heard of the shooting he pursued the Japanese, when he almost beat him to death. The condition of the Japanese is critical, and Doler was arrested pending the outcome.

BLUE FOR FIREWORKS.

Insurance Companies Are Throwing Cold Water.

The present outlook is that the pyrotechnical part of the Fourth of July celebration will not be a success, unless, like the righteous, it comes up through great tribulation. The insurance companies are throwing cold water. They have served notice that they will not stand responsible for loss caused by fireworks on the Fourth.

The result will probably be that the energies of all patriots will be concentrated upon other features of the celebration.

THE SCHOONER WATSON.

Conflicting Reports as to Her Mission to Hawaii.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., June 26.—The schooner George W. Watson, laden with lumber, reported to have sailed from Seattle last night for Hawaii laden with firearms for the revolutionists, passed down the straights early this morning. A tug cast her adrift abreast of Dungeness lights. In the same locality all day yesterday and today several small sloops have been lazily cruising around, which occasions the belief here that munitions will be transferred to her before she sails from the Sound. For several weeks definite information has existed in Port Townsend that Royalist sympathizers with headquarters in the northwest have been energetically engaged in trying to secure a vessel and men to assist in overthrowing the government of Hawaii. The captain of the tug Mystery, which towed the schooner Watson down the straits, returned today and averred that the vessel was going to the islands on a peaceful mission. He said the schooner was manned with an ordinary crew of sailors who did not have the appearance of adventurers seeking to overthrow the republic.

Two Makah Indians belonging to the Quillayute tribe were arrested today for smuggling merchandise from British Columbia and peddling it among the settlers. Goods to the value of several hundred dollars were seized. Customs officers have been apprised of the fact that smuggling has been going on for years, and that the government has been defrauded out of many thousands of dollars.

Harvard Graduates.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 26.—The class of '95 at Harvard was graduated today. Shortly before 1 o'clock President Scott with the fellow overseers of the faculty and their officers, Governor Green and staff and the Boston lancers, together with the alumni and their guests, escorted the senior class to Sanders' theater, were the orations of the day were delivered and the degrees conferred. The class numbers nearly 400, there being 364 degrees conferred.

AGAIN IN COMMISSION

ENGINE NO. 3 PREPARED FOR SERVICE.

Other Matters Called Up in the Meeting of the Volunteer Firemen.

At the meeting of the Fresno Volunteer Fire Department on Tuesday evening, it was agreed that stokers shall receive $2 for each time the fire is lit in their engines. For several months past stokers have received nothing.

Engine No. 3, which went out of commission several months ago, was ordered into commission again. It will not respond to alarms except in case of large fires. There are horses enough in the department to draw the engine, and no new ones need be purchased. An engineer will be employed, simply to keep the engine in repair and to respond to alarms. His pay will be $1 for each alarm he answers, and $3.50 for each time his services are needed.

Consideration was given to the matter of the City Trustees giving permits to persons erecting buildings to violate the ordinances relating to awnings and other matters, thereby making it hazardous for firemen when called upon to protect such buildings, who receive neither compensation for their services nor for injuries. Chief Hart was authorized to draw up a resolution and petition to the City Trustees for signatures of the firemen expressing their views on this subject.

The new law authorizing the pensioning of disabled firemen was read by the secretary, and was ordered posted in each engine house and filed in the archives of the department.

Lot F. Winchell introduced the subject of resurrecting the tapper-line system of alarms, so as to better arouse the firemen at night, and Chief Hart, Colonel Bonifas, J. H. Collins and E. R. Higgins were appointed a committee on this subject.

A HORRIBLE TALE.

The Supply of Horns Will Be Short on the Fourth.

The members of the Ancient Order of Horribles who have been making preparations for a peculiarly boisterous display of patriotism on the glorious Fourth are prostrated by a terrible discovery.

On the occasion of the last celebration in this city the Horribles were furnished by the liberality of citizens with a number of horns, the powers of which can be attested to by many reputable Fresnoans whose ears were split on that occasion.

Those horns were believed to be in safe keeping, and the "music" committee of the Horribles went gleefully in search of them. Great was their indignation when they found that Wm. Hughes, the custodian, who has made his home in Madera, had already had them conveyed away for Madera's celebration by a trusty friend.

The horns are not the property of Madera in any sense of the word. They belong to the Fresno Order of Horribles, and the latter are in doubt whether to get them by an attachment, or to put in an injunction on the eventful day, if Will Hughes and the Madera Horribles attempt to use the horns in the parade.

It is a horrible tale truly. As the boys say, county division is bad enough, but they might have left us our "toots."

Beat His Wife.

On Tuesday last Frank Jordan, who was recently acquitted of the murder of Boyd Balthrop, beat his wife at Selma, knocking her down and kicking her. The reason for the attack was that she refused to live with him. Mrs. Jordan declined to swear to a complaint against him, and he was not arrested.

Rev. James H. White, who went from Tulare to Maryland a couple of years ago, has returned much broken in health by the change of climate. Mr. White says that so long as he lives he will not leave California again.

A MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR

A Buffalo Lawyer Found Bound and Gagged.

KEPT IN BONDAGE TWO DAYS

Compelled by Threats to Write a Note to His Wife Asking Her to Send Him Money.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 26.—O. O. Cottle, a lawyer, was found bound and gagged in the cellar of a house at Black Rock this morning. He had been there all night. The police are mystified.

Mr. Cottle's story is that on Monday morning a man drove up to his house, and told him a man on Chenango street desired to make a real estate deal with him. Mr. Cottle was driven to an unoccupied cottage on Baynes street, where on entering he was seized by his guides and another man gagged and bound him. Money was demand, and under threats he was compelled to write a note to his wife, saying he was under arrest in Fort Erie and asking for $2900.

The man with the buggy drove back to Mr. Cottle's home with the note and delivered it to Mrs. Cottle, who called upon her son for advice. The latter went out to confer with the man, who rode away. Mr. Cottle was kept in bondage for two days. He was handcuffed and a dog collar put around his neck, and chained to a chair in the cellar. A pitcher of water was placed near, so that by stooping he could reach it, and the only food given him was a few crackers. Here he remained while other efforts to extort money were made. At length the bandits, fearing perhaps that they would be trapped, took Mr. Cottle up to the ground floor. Here he was found this morning.

FORESTERS CELEBRATE.

Third Anniversary of Court Yosemite, A. O. F. of A.

The members of Court Yosemite, Ancient Order of Foresters, sat down to a magnificent banquet in DuWitt hall last night in celebration of the third anniversary of the organization of the court. There are now 135 members in good standing, of whom over sixty were present last night. The attendance would have been even larger but for the fact that many of the rural members are now busy in the harvest fields.

Chief Ranger Roy Hall presided, and the following toasts were duly proposed and responded to: "Our Guests," by Bro. W. K. Cowen; "The San Francisco Courts," by Bro. J. E. Nicholson of Court Seal Rock, No. 7767; "Court Hermann," by Bro. Phil Schmitz; "Our Companions," by Bro. Lewis Harris; "Fraternal Organizations," by Bro. C. T. Sierra; "Our Court," by Bro. Roy Hall; "Our Past Chief Rangers," by Bro. Maas; "The Veteran Growlers," by Bro. Henry Groshans; "Our Now Chief Ranger," by Bro. F. R. Hoppuck; "The Ladies," by Bro. William Anderson Benn; "Our Juveniles," by Bro. George Fleming; "Our New Members," by Bro. Otto Nestel.

HUNDRED THOUSAND CLUB.

It Considers a Proposition from Sewer Pipe Men.

The executive committee of the Hundred Thousand Club met last night in the city hall, Chairman A. R. Lisenby presiding.

Messrs. Maples and Thornbrough of Antioch appeared before the committee, and submitted a proposition to establish in Fresno a plant for the manufacture of sewer pipe, pressed brick and pottery. They ask for a site and frame buildings as a bonus. A sub-committee was appointed to go into the matter in detail with Messrs. Maples and Thornbrough. The prospects are considered quite favorable for the establishment in or near Fresno of this manufacturing enterprise, which, if secured, would assist in many ways in the growth and development of the city.

As there was not a full attendance of the executive committee, the matter of giving an expression of the committee's opinion on the co-operative plan of raisin packing was passed until this (Thursday) evening, when a special meeting will be held to consider that question. All members of the club, and especially of the executive committee, are urged to meet tonight to discuss this important matter.

Contracting for Laborers.

From the San Francisco Call.

Mr. Fitzgerald of the State Labor Bureau yesterday received his first order for men. One of the largest contractors in the state recently noticed Mr. Fitzgerald's appeal to employers to patronize the free white labor bureau when help is wanted, and he called upon the commissioner yesterday. He said: "I will take 200 of your men as soon as the bureau opens on July 15th. I will probably increase my order to 500 before August 1st, as I have a big irrigation canal contract in Fresno. Heretofore I have had to rely on the employment offices and every man I hired cost some one from $2 to $4 for commission. I will help you all I can in this matter, and I am employing men all the time. I don't want my name mentioned, as I don't want men importuning me for work until I get ready for business. I want to be the first patron of the free bureau and I will want to pick the men."

Bids Wanted.

Bids in writing will be received at the office of L. L. Cory, in Fresno National Bank building, on or before June 27, 1895, for the labor to be performed in construction of frame building. Right reserved to reject any or all bids.

L. L. CORY.

Mr. Bellenberg's Funeral.

M. W. Bellenberg, who died on Tuesday at his home near Pollasky of cholera morbus, will be buried this morning from the undertaking parlors of Stephens & Bean. The funeral procession will start at 9 o'clock.

D. Fried, a veteran hotel man and viticulturist of St. Helena, Napa county, is registered at the Hughes.

CHICKADEES, PINHEADS AND COYOTES.

The fact is, the spectacle of the newspapers of this city booming the interior carnivals and fiestas at the very moment these interior chickadees [newspapers] were telling their readers that San Francisco was bankrupt, its prisoners unfed, its fire department horses starving, its police corrupt and its government mostly in the hands of thieves, needed only a slight illustration to strike home. * * * Notwithstanding the attempts these pinheads are making to explain away, etc. * * * If the interior press does not reform its spirit toward this city it will discover some unwelcome chickens coming home to roost. If it comes down to a battle between the envious interior chickadees and the metropolitan press a good many newspaper coyotes will be compelled to hunt ...

Probably it is unnecessary to state that the foregoing is from the San Francisco Post. The calm, dignified and logical tone which characterizes the utterances would be proof conclusive of their paternity to anybody who is at all acquainted with that paper. Whatever may be the faults of the newspapers of California there is none other of any legitimate circulation that would stoop to the "chickadee," "pinhead" and "coyote" method of controversy; that ... of argument is the Post's own.

... editors of the interior need no defense against such a sheet as the Post, ... attacked by it is to be honored; ... do no harm to expose the absurdity of some of its ... says that "these interior ... Post classical literature] were ... readers that San Francisco ... bankrupt, its prisoners unfed, its fire department horses starving, its police corrupt and its government mostly in the hands of thieves."

Now the Post knows that every one of these charges was originally made by the San Francisco press, and that if any interior paper retailed them it did nothing more than to repeat a "twice-told tale." Was it untrue that San Francisco was bankrupt, and that its prisoners, paupers and horses were in danger of going on scanty rations? Then the papers of that city devoted columns day after day to minute and particular lying, for they said that these things were true and gave their fullest particulars. Was it untrue that the police department is corrupt, and its government ... in the hands of thieves? Then have the city papers so alleged in ... form of words or another, time and again? Every reader knows that ... have done so. Does the Post recollect ... was most strenuous in its ... recount of ... city's vote, ... election, and that ... was based on an allegation of thievery? Was it treasonable for an interior paper to repeat its charge? Not unless it knew the character of the Post.

That paper should once for all awaken to a realization of the fact that the interior press obtains its information concerning the metropolis from its papers. If the country press says that the city is corrupt it says no more than the city papers have alleged for years. If it charges that silurianism heretofore has brooded over the big town, the city papers have constantly demonstrated that the charge is true.

Concerning the threat contained in the last sentence quoted from the Post, this much may be said: There is no quarrel between the metropolitan press generally and the interior papers. As for a quarrel with the Post, how could anybody who respects himself engage in a prolonged controversy with a sheet whose mental calibre is indicated by its chickadee-pinhead-coyote variety of fight?

GIVES THEM ROOM.

While the raisin growers of California are not heard expressing their gratification over the reduction of duty on foreign raisins from 2½ to 1½ cents per pound, there are some localities in which this action of the Democratic administration is remembered with genuine gratification. In Spain and Smyrna the reduction of this duty is looked upon as an act of consummate wisdom, and the American market is viewed with hopeful expectancy.

A. C. Denotovich of this city is in receipt of Smyrna papers of recent date, which comment quite freely on the raisin situation. One of those journals expresses some alarm at the reported advance in seedless raisin production in this state, and still it finds the situation encouraging. It says:

"But if this is correct there is still no immediate danger of disaster to our industry, because the high freight from California to the central market, and the reduction in the duty on this article by the Democratic government from 2½ cents to 1½ cents per pound gives us room to compete with the far western people in an article on which we held a monopoly a few years ago."

The raisin growers of Smyrna did hold a monopoly in Sultana raisin production ... a few years ago, and the people of this country paid handsomely for the support of that monopoly. Now that the domestic producers have succeeded in breaking that monopoly, notwithstanding their disadvantages of high freights and high rates for labor, the "Democratic government" has seen fit to reduce the duty and give the foreign ... easier access to a market in which ... have been put in reach of the ... by the domestic industry. No wonder the foreign growers feel encouraged. They know that the California raisin growers require that duty of ... to offset their disadvantages of ... freights and high wages for labor, ... feel that the scale is now ... their favor.

... advantage can this reduction be to anybody but the foreign producer? Raisins are now as ... as they can possibly be produced ... existing conditions in California, ... consumers are already enjoying ... of the cheapness which they owe to the domestic industry. The consumer, therefore, cannot benefit by the reduction, and the foreigner is the sole beneficiary. The loss of much needed revenue and such loss as the grower must sustain are the only effects of that reduction so far as the people of this country are concerned.

The reduction of the duty on foreign raisins is one of those features of the new tariff for which no intelligent reason can be given. It was simply made because reductions were in order, without any reason; and the foreigners get the benefit.

THE REPUBLICAN notes with satisfaction that the Fresno fire department is taking steps to strengthen and improve its organization, in view of increasing danger from fires during the hot, dry months of summer. This is exactly as it should be. Fresno undoubtedly has the best and most thoroughly equipped fire department in the state, and eternal vigilance in its management is the price of maintaining that thorough organization and efficiency essential to the preservation of its high standard. It is particularly desirable at this season of the year that no precaution should be omitted which is calculated to decrease danger from fires, and property owners will observe with approval that the department is fully awake to the responsibility which rests upon it.

CHAIRMAN GOULD has decided that the California Democracy will not have any silver convention at this time, so far as he is concerned. The advantages of an open fight between the rank and file of the party and the administration cuckoos are not apparent to the astute chairman of the state central committee, and certainly from the cuckoo standpoint he is eminently correct.

Now that the fire insurance people have decided against having fireworks in Fresno on the glorious Fourth, it is about time to hear from the life insurance people. The menace to life implied in the presence of numbers of national guardsmen certainly calls for a protest from those who are pecuniarily interested in prolonging human existence.

IT is estimated that the people of California have expended more than $2,000,000 for eastern-made bicycles. This suggests the question as to whether there are any unsurmountable obstacles in the way of manufacturing bicycles on this coast.

RANDOM REMARKS.

A Chicago woman wouldn't lock the doors of her house when she left it, and her husband thought of a funny way to break her of the bad habit. So one day when she had left the house unlocked he had a load of furniture carted to her sister's home, and when he saw how troubled his wife was he laughed and laughed and laughed. Then he took the goods home, and his sister-in-law had him arrested for larceny because he took some of her furniture, too. He is now in jail, and he doesn't laugh and laugh and laugh. He says there is such a thing as carrying a joke too far.

The aid and sympathy given to Bandit Brady by people in Shasta county is as disgraceful as the help and shelter afforded by the dwellers in the Fresno foothills to Evans and Sontag.—San Francisco Chronicle.

The sentiment conveyed in the foregoing would be all right were it not that the public does not know whether people in Shasta county have aided Brady. The reports from the scene of action have constantly been so conflicting that no man may know whether the murderer is or has been in that county. The reports of today are denied tomorrow, and those of tomorrow are contradicted on the next day. It will be time enough to condemn the Shasta people when it is known that they have assisted Brady.

Now comes a Cazadero woman and alleges that James G. Fair, whom the people of California honored, as they dishonored themselves, by making him their senator, was married by mock ceremony to a Miss McKenna of Lodi. She gives the full details, and says that Miss McKenna, who was but 17, for a long time believed herself to be really married. Two children were born to the couple, one of whom is dead. So start the shades of this fellow Fair's illicit loves from their hiding places. Whether the Cazadero woman's story be true or not, enough is known to mark Fair as as infamous a moral renegade as the sun shines upon—"Lucky" Baldwin always excepted. To betray women by foul means or fair was a part of his program of living. He has gone where no words of contempt can touch him, but they should be heaped upon his memory not the less, for rarely does as foul a creature assume the form of man.

WITH COMPLIMENTS TO THE "POST."

Chickadees, pinheads and coyotes.—As the San Francisco Post characterizes the interior press.

Oh, I am the editor of the S. F. Post,
And a queer little sheet it be;
And I look in the glass and I smile almost
Such a cute little fellow to see.
Oh, I write my screeds in a Jaytown way,
And I tickle the world with my startling bray,
And I rest my bwains in a chair all day—
I'm as cunning as cunning can be.

When I open my mouth the logic flows,
And queer little logic it be;
And I wear S. P. on my rearmost clothes,
For I dote on the dear S. P.
I am weally quite down on the country press;
When I call them "coyotes" they're sick, I guess,
And a "pinhead" argument's sure to distress—
I am weally too awful, you see.

When I open my mouth there's something dwops,
(I guess it's my jaw, maybe)
And something there is most always flops
(Of course it's my tongue, you see.)
When I move weal quick my watting bwains
Are subject to terrible, terrible sewains,
And that's when I have my "chickadee" pains—
It's funny how dweadful I be.

You see that humped creature gliding down the street, Solomon. You realize that it is like nothing in the heaven above or the earth beneath or the waters under the earth, but you vaguely suspect that it may be a deformed dromedary. It is not. What is it then, do you ask? Dear boy, it is a man, and he is wearing his bicycle hump. You want to know if it is necessary that he should wear it? It is not. Why then, you ask, does he thus deform himself? Because he imagines that it makes him look speedy, sporty and bewitchingly and enchantingly fascinating. He knows that such a stoop is necessary in the swiftest riding, and he fancies that everybody gazes on him and says, "Ah, isn't he a flyer!" They don't, Solomon; they look at him and say, "The what-is-it is in town." Thus, my boy, do you see what an untamed imagination and an uneducated talent for posing in public will do for a man who should know better. Oh, yes, they usually stop bending after a while—some interested friend tells them how they look.

Somebody sent one Alfred Isaacs of San Francisco a "Hawaiian cactus." It was a rare and very peculiar plant, about four or five inches long, slender, tapering to a point and covered with a gray fuzz. It was tied to a stick which was stuck in the soil of the jar that contained it, and written instructions directed that it should be watered twice a day. Mr. Isaacs thought a great deal of the Hawaiian cactus, and twice daily he would water it and then stand for a long time admiring it. But, with all its watering, the cactus didn't seem to grow—in fact, it didn't grow nearly as fast as a seal brown smell in the room did. It was a curious smell, but it was not thoroughly enjoyable. Mr. Isaacs thought and thought until he had an idea. He exhumed the Hawaiian cactus. It was a rat's tail, and a very dead rat was its root. Its admiring owner fumigated the room with brimstone, and his remarks furnished the material. He now wants to ascertain who sent the Hawaiian cactus to him.

HE IS A BIGAMIST.

New Light on the Life of Victor Adam.

THE STORY OF HIS FIRST WIFE

Steps Taken to Punish the Man for His Cruelty to His Step-Child.

The account of the cruelty of Victor H. Adam to his 5-year-old stepchild, published exclusively in the REPUBLICAN of June 22, has been copied and commented on far and wide. The details of his treatment of the child filled with indignation all who read the article. But it seems that the whole was not told, and that Adam has a history which shows him even worse than he was supposed to be. The following is taken from the Madera Mercury of yesterday:

Adam's brutal treatment of his stepchild is not the first offense of the kind which he is guilty of, for it now transpires that he treated his own children worse, if that were possible, than he did the poor little child that was driven to the verge of insanity by his brutality.

Adam drove his stepchild out of the house without a thing to eat and she was forced to wander among the hills with scanty clothing until found after a two days' search by some neighbors. The child was half crazed with fear and hunger. The mother of the little one was prevented from giving her child food by the brute who dominates over the household.

Much censure has been given to the woman who, from fear of the wrath of the villain who is her husband, would allow her child to be driven out into the wilds without food or raiment, a prey to all the terrors of the place; but when it is known that the woman is a weak-minded imbecile, pity will take the place of blame. Mrs. Adam was brought here some months ago to be examined on a charge of insanity, and though she was found to be exceedingly weak minded, it was not thought that she was a fit subject for detention in the insane asylum, and she was allowed to return home.

Her name was Mrs. Carrie Mayfield before she got linked with the brute who claims to be her husband. The couple were married by contract sometime in last December. The contract was recorded here on December 6, 1894.

The story of Adam's crime has gone abroad through the medium of the newspapers. It was such a brutal deed that it was commented upon wherever it was known.

Among others who read the account of Adam's brutal treatment of his five-year-old stepdaughter was a little woman in Tucson, A. T. It had a special interest for her, for she bears the name of Adam. Her life was ruined by the man who was guilty of the brutality to his stepdaughter. She was not surprised to hear that Adam was cruel, for she has had reason to know much more of his brutality than any one else, as she is his wife, and he more than once was guilty of brutality to his children, of whom he has four. It was his brutality to his wife and little ones that led a number of the citizens of Pinal, A. T., where Adam then lived, to organize a vigilance committee and drive him from the town.

Adam's wife has written a letter telling of the brutality he practiced on herself and children. She charges that Adam swindled her out of her property in Oakland and moved to Arizona. She also states that he tied his own children up and beat them like dogs.

If the woman's story is true, and there seems to be no good reason for doubting it, Adam is a bigamist, for he has never been divorced from his first wife. The woman is anxious that he shall be prosecuted for bigamy, and is willing to give her testimony against him. The following is a copy of her letter:

TUCSON, June 22, 1895.

I noticed from a Fresno paper of the 22d of June how a man with the name of Victor H. Adam had a narrow escape from lynching a few days ago for the ill treatment of his 5-year-old stepdaughter.

I am the lawful wife of this brute. He was born on February 1, 1848, in Strasburg, France. He is five feet eight inches high, and has a crooked right eye. He swindled me out of my property in Oakland, Cal., and then we moved to Pinal, Arizona.

I have four children by him. He treated his wife and children so bad that a vigilance committee ordered him out of the town. This was on the 16th of June, eleven years ago, and this was the last I ever saw of him. He is a cruel man. He tied his own children up and beat them like dogs. The gallows is too good for him. I have no divorce from him. If you will prosecute him for bigamy I will give testimony in the case if desired.

ANNIE ADAM.
No. 9, Stoney Ave., Tucson, A.T.

District Attorney Wallace has not been idle in regard to taking steps for the punishment of Adam for his cruelty. He has written a letter to the justice of the peace of the township in which Adam lives asking that officer to endeavor to get some proof on which Adam might be prosecuted. In conversation with a reporter about the case Mr. Wallace said:

"This is one of those cases which deserves the severest punishment, but it is also a case which is difficult of proof owing to the fact that the law provides that a wife shall not give testimony against her husband, and also to the youth of the child. I think under these circumstances that it will be hard to get a jury to convict, but I am going to do all in my power to bring this fiend to justice."

Now that it is known that Adam is liable to prosecution, the matter is not so difficult and there is no doubt but that Adam will receive some punishment for his fiendish act.

THE FIRST SALT DIP.

Members of the Athletic Club Enjoy a Luxury.

Last evening the first attempt to introduce salt water bathing in Fresno was made. As previously stated in the REPUBLICAN, the Fresno Athletic Club received from San Francisco 1000 pounds of sea salt. When the large swimming tank of the club was pumped full yesterday, 150 pounds of this salt, melted by steam, was put into the tank, and last evening large numbers of club members experienced the delights of salt water bathing.

The tank is 42½x18 feet, and has a capacity of 38,000 gallons. It is nine feet deep at one end and five feet at the other, the bottom being inclined. This tank is pumped full three times a week, and it is the intention of the club to have fresh water only in the tub and shower baths in the future. Salt water bathing will be a boon to Fresnoites during the summer, because instead of weakening the bather the salt water invigorates.

Articles of Incorporation.

In the office of the county clerk yesterday the Union Co-operative Packing Association filed its articles of incorporation, with the following directors: T. J. Alexander, J. H. Minard, H. J. Easton, Henry Ramancher, and O. Gainer. The principal office is in Fresno.

T. H. Warrington, agent of the Santa Fe, went on a business trip to San Francisco this morning.

PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE

Suggested by the Fire Underwriters' Inspection Bureau.

F. H. Porter, chief inspector of the Fire Underwriters' inspection bureau, has sent out a circular to the various towns of the state. The following extracts are taken from the circular, and citizens will do well to act according to the suggestions:

In view of the near approach of the Fourth of July with its attendant conflagration hazard, it is desired to call attention to the following simple precautions, some of which can be adopted to advantage by every one:

If you have private fire apparatus, see that the hose, fire pails and extinguishers are in serviceable condition. If you have none, this is an excellent time to so protect your property.

If you have small hose, attach it in the most available place. Many kinds of business require the use of pails, tanks and barrels, while stores, stables and dwellings all have pails in use. Fill these with water and dispose them advantageously during this dangerous time.

If you have gratings in the sidewalk over basement openings, or have outside basement doors, remove all rubbish and if possible close them over temporarily to keep out fireworks.

Wet down wooden sidewalks and planked areas, also under open sidewalk gratings, and use water enough to run through the cracks so as to wet the chips, paper, etc., underneath.

Remove all packing boxes, goods in cases and rubbish from sidewalks, areas and roofs. If any boxes are necessarily left outside, pile them snugly and see that no packing material is left exposed.

Ascertain location of key of nearest fire alarm box.

[We publish the following communication from an old-time Democrat of Fresno city, who has won on more than one Democratic ticket, who is in a position to thoroughly understand the situation and who has no interest in the question at issue except so far as they pertain to the good of the party.—Ed. Irrigator.]

Editor Irrigator:—Your uniform liberality in opening your columns to the discussion of political questions and official acts has been sufficient invitation to justify me in requesting the publication of this letter.

Just where and when the present editor of the once-honored Democratic Expositor and W. T. Maupin figured as beneficiaries to the Democratic party of Fresno county may be a problem as difficult to solve as to inform the Democratic party of Fresno county who delegated to them and a few other Cleveland followers the right to pass the resolutions that were drawn up in the New Expositor office by A. B. Butler's man "Friday," pledging the Democracy to its support as the official organ of the party in Fresno county.

Now then, Mr. Influential New Expositor Democratic County Committee, permit me to say that, in my opinion, seven-tenths of the Democracy of the great county of Fresno cannot, have not, and will not indorse Mr. Cleveland's opposition to the coinage of silver or the protection given to the villainous combines and trusts through the appointment of Mr. Olney or the manipulation of the national loan with foreign bankers, robbing the people of 12,000,000 of dollars.

If the above conclusions are based on facts there is but one course for true Democrats to pursue, viz: Abandon wrong and battle for right, or organize at once and publish a Democratic paper, the name of which shall not be the "New Railroad Expositor," but instead a manly, open and honest advocate of Democratic principles, whose columns shall always be open to the discussion of national issues or local interests, and free from all railroad influences, favoring free coinage of silver, giving the administration due credit for all honolite, and full condemnation for its failure to comply with the promises made to the people in the party's national platform.

Such a journal will surely meet with the undivided support, not only of all true Democrats, but of all true and honest men of all parties.

BULLDOZING OBJECTED TO.

A Democratic Paper Protests Against Unfair Treatment.

From the Selma Irrigator.

A little criticism has a marked effect upon some people. It is generally understood that public men and institutions are open to criticism and nobody need apprehend arousing personal animosity on the part of any man of any breadth of mine by expressing an opinion at variance with that of the person criticised. It is a matter of some surprise that Brother Preston of the Expositor should persistently attempt a personal injury because we have publicly differed from him on the silver question, and his willful attempt to hold us up in a false light leads all disinterested observers to place a low estimate upon his character for fairness. If he is acting in a professional manner, we have entertained a wrong idea of journalism.

Will Nichols, colored, alias "Kansas," was yesterday held by Recorder Clark to stand trial in the superior court for attempting to carve William Johnson in a Chinatown fight. Bail was fixed at $500 which he could not furnish.

Over Thirty Years Without Sickness.

Mr. H. WETTSTEIN, a well-known, enterprising citizen of Byron, Ill., writes: "Before I paid much attention to regulating the bowels, I hardly knew a well day; but since I learned the evil results of constipation, and the efficacy of AYER'S Pills I have not had one day's sickness for over thirty years—not one attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife had been, previous to our marriage, an invalid for years. She had a prejudice against cathartics, but as soon as she began to use Ayer's Pills her health was restored."

COLLEGE TUITION FREE

A GOOD CHANCE FOR ENTERPRISING YOUNG PEOPLE.

How Six Weeks' Work may be Made to Pay for an Education.

The REPUBLICAN has a proposition to make to ambitious young people. The paper is in a position to aid them in their laudable efforts to secure a college education. The California College, East Oakland, Cal., is one of the best among the higher educational institutions in the state. To the person (male or female) under 18 years of age who will bring or send to the REPUBLICAN office the largest list of new subscribers to the MORNING REPUBLICAN by Wednesday, August 14, 1895, a receipt will be given which will entitle the holder to one year's tuition, free, in the California college. To the person bringing or sending in the next largest list a receipt for one-half year's tuition will be given.

The collegiate course at California College includes the subjects which make up the usual college curriculum. The institution is noted for the efficiency of the methods of its faculty in imparting instruction, the carefulness of its management and the general reliability of the school.

To this first-class academy, any Fresno county boy or girl can go for one year at no expense for tuition and with no greater effort than that entailed in getting up a list of subscribers to the REPUBLICAN. It is easy to get subscribers to this paper. They come to our office every day without solicitation.

By a little industry you can easily get up a big list.

The prize is worth trying for. A year's tuition free in one of the leading educational institutions of the state. Ask your friends to take the paper and begin sending in the names at once, to the REPUBLICAN office, 947 and 949 J street, Fresno. Call at the office for subscription blanks and instructions.

A PLACE OF HONOR.

Why the G. A. R. Will March Behind the Ex-Confederates.

Considerable surprise and not a little unfavorable comment was made when the published order of parade for the Fourth of July showed that Sterling Price Camp of Confederate Veterans would march ahead of Atlanta Post, Grand Army of the Republic.

It appears, however, that the order in which the names of the organizations appears on the printed list by no means indicates the relative dignity ascribed to each. General Muller and Major S. S. Wright, who were interrogated yesterday in regard to the matter, replied that the Grand Army men really occupied the post of honor as compared with the Confederate organization, and that this station had been stipulated for by C. L. Walter, marshal of the day and himself a member of Atlanta Post. General Muller pointed out that in assigning places in the first division to the military organizations the militia had been accorded the post of honor, namely, at the right of the line. The second position of honor is the left of the line, and this was given to the G. A. R., the Confederate Veterans occupying the center. In breaking into columns or fours to the right the militia would thus naturally be placed in the lead, the Confederate Veterans second and the Grand Army men third.

The explanation was satisfactory to J. F. Noble, commander of Atlanta Post, when it was communicated to him, and he stated his intention of calling a special meeting of the post to ascertain what muster could probably be made. He said that many of the comrades belonged to other organizations and might parade with them.

GONE TO FARMING.

Lawyer Colwell Prefers Health to Fame.

George E. Colwell, who formerly practiced law in this city, and was recently attorney for the defense in the case of the San Francisco murderers, Fredericks and Collins, has decided to give up the legal profession, temporarily if not permanently.

When Mr. Colwell was down here at the time sentence was passed on his client, Fredericks, it was noticed by his friends that he was a very sick man and looked as if consumption had fastened its grip on him. He expressed intention of spending the summer here, but seems to have changed his mind. He returned to San Francisco at the end of a week and has now leased a ranch at Fruitvale, at the eastern terminus of the Oakland city road.

In order to obtain assurance on the point of his being consumptive, Mr. Colwell had his expectorated matter examined microscopically, and the result is said to have confirmed his worst fears. His first impulse was to make a long stay in the Sierras, the atmosphere of the pine groves on elevated ground being one of the most reliable of the many consumptive cures. Mr. Colwell preferred the ranch idea, however, and now he may be seen any day driving to town with garden truck, chickens and eggs for sale. He wears a straw hat, a plain woolen shirt, and boots innocent of the shoeblack's art. At last reports Mr. Colwell is looking brown and vigorous, with a good prospect of arresting the progress of his disease.

A Lecture on Corea.

The United Presbyterian church at Easton was well filled Tuesday night, the attraction being a stereopticon lecture on "Japan and Corea" by Mr. Seehorn. This gentleman is a gifted lecturer, and his description of the manners and customs of the Coreans was very edifying. Mrs. Davenhill rendered the musical items on the program in excellent style, the "Battle March" being specially applauded.

THE COMMITTEE

TERRY BLOCK TITLE

The District Attorney Files an Opinion.

SALE NEARLY CONSUMMATED

The Improvements Go With the Land if the School District Buys It.

The City Board of Education held a meeting last night to consider the matter of the Terry block.

District Attorney Snow handed to the board his opinion, as requested, as to whether the school district, if it purchased the block, would obtain title to the improvements thereon. There was also submitted to the District Attorney the record book of the district, and an abstract of the Terry block title from January 3, 1893, to noon on June 18, 1895, prepared by the Fresno Abstract Company; and also certified copies of papers from the superior court of San Francisco in the matter of the guardianship of Sarah A. Terry, together with a deed to R. B. Butler and W. N. Rohrer by Thomas H. Williams, guardian of Mrs. Terry; also a quitclaim deed to the block executed February 13, 1895, by R. P. Ashe to R. B. Butler.

From an examination of the abstract and from the other papers in the case the district attorney found on December 14, 1888, David S. Terry was the owner of the block, and that day mortgaged it to John Hastings for $7000. On April 14, 1890, Hastings assigned the mortgage to Frank V. McDonald of the Pacific Bank, and suit was commenced to foreclose the mortgage, which suit is still pending and the mortgage is unsatisfied. David S. Terry died August 14, 1889, and in the settlement of his estate the block became the property of his widow, Sarah A. Terry, subject to the mortgage. On August 2, 1890, she deeded it to R. P. Ashe, and it stands in his name on the records of Fresno county now, subject to the $7000 mortgage, and to $14.62 delinquent taxes, and to taxes of this year.

On March 6, 1895, Thomas H. Williams was appointed as Mrs. Terry's guardian, she being insane, and on May 9, 1895, all of Mrs. Terry's interest in the block was sold to R. B. Butler and W. N. Rohrer by Thomas H. Williams, and the court confirmed the sale, and ordered a deed executed to Butler and Rohrer, which deed was executed. But neither this deed nor the order of court confirming the sale has been recorded.

District Attorney Snow sums up the matter thus: "If there is nothing of record which is a lien against the real property of said Butler and Rohrer, then the title will stand in their names when the above mentioned quit claim and guardian's deed, and order confirming said sale by said guardian, are recorded, subject only to the mortgage and taxes already mentioned.

"In the contract signed by R. B. Butler and the president and secretary of your board on the 16th day of April, 1895, said Butler agreed to execute and deliver a good and sufficient deed of conveyance to said block 132. Nothing is said in the contract concerning the improvements on the property, and said Butler is legally obligated to give the district a deed without reservation, upon payment of the purchase price, and the title to the improvements will pass to the district under such a deed."

The opinion was received and placed on file without any demonstrations from any quarter. The scene was in marked contrast with former scenes when the Terry block matter was up for consideration.

At the last meeting of the board Chairman Eden and Clerk Cummings were elected a committee to confer with District Attorney Snow on the title and other matters, and if the title should be found satisfactory, to close negotiations with Messrs. Butler and Rohrer for the Terry block. But the committee deemed it best to have the opinion and the entire matter brought up before the full board, and accordingly the meeting was called last night.

The opinion was read, and as to the small things in the way of granting a clear title, the Terry block agents stated that they could fix those things up satisfactorily today.

By a unanimous vote the chairman and secretary were continued on the committee to close negotiations for the Terry block as soon as a title is furnished satisfactory to them. It was further ordered that if the property is bought the secretary notify Contractor Hickox to commence the construction of the building immediately.

It has not yet developed what effect the clause in the District Attorney's opinion will have, which holds that the buildings must go with the block. Mr. Butler's residence is on the block, and two or three other buildings of less value. Mr. Butler's intention all along has been to move these buildings off if the block is sold. He has stated repeatedly to the board that the sole interest he has in the sale is to obtain the buildings.

The board fixed September 16th as the date for beginning the schools, and decided to have a nine months' term.

Salaries of all teachers in primary and grammar grades were fixed at $75, and the principals of the different buildings $100. The former salaries were $70 for primary, $75 for grammar and $90 for the principals. The salaries of high school teachers were not fixed, with the exception of Mr. McNeil, whose pay was fixed at $1000 for the term. Mr. McNeil will probably not accept this, as he has a better offer elsewhere. A majority of the board expressed themselves in favor of securing an additional teacher for the high school.

The board then adjourned till Tuesday night.

Delano's Bonfire.

The people of Delano expect to have a $700,000 bonfire on the Fourth. This seems a somewhat extravagant celebration for a town surrounded by jackrabbits, but the people of Delano think they can stand it. The explanation takes off some of the romance. The Kern and Tulare Irrigation district's first issue of bonds were found not to be printed in the right form, and they have been ordered destroyed. Accordingly they will take them to Delano, and when the glorious Fourth comes round they will furnish fuel for a bonfire of the face value of $700,000.

FREE TRADE FINANCE

RECEIPTS CONTINUE TO FALL SHORT OF EXPENSES.

Another Addition to the Public Debt Expected Before Next December.

[Washington Special to the Call.]

For the third time since the Democratic party was placed in control of the government the gold reserve is restored to $100,000,000.

The contract with the bond syndicate requires the payment of $6,000,000 more in gold to the treasury. When the transaction by which bonds are exchanged for gold is completed the combination which has been protecting the reserve will be under no further obligation to prevent the export of the yellow metal. It is a remarkable bit of financiering on the part of the Democratic administration—first, calmly to let the reserve be invaded and then frantically try to restore it.

The question is often asked among financial observers in Washington, why, if it is necessary at all to maintain the reserve, should it be permitted to disappear. By much less effort and a much smaller premium gold could have been bought when the reserve was $100,000,000 than when it was $60,000,000. The second time the reserve was cut down to $50,000,000, it naturally cost still more to buy gold to make up the loss. The third operation was so costly as to call forth the joint criticism of Republicans and Democrats at the opportunity given by the administration in private contracts to bond sharps.

The receipts of the government are not in the healthy condition it was expected they would be by this time. The bitterest opponents of the Wilson-Gorman law supposed that the speculative movements in sugar and whisky could not stop an improvement beyond the month of May. June has almost passed, and with its close will come the end of the fiscal year. The receipts show no improvement from whisky or sugar.

The total excess of expenditures over receipts at the close of business today was nearly $18,000, and this showing is likely to be continued to the end of the month.

The receipts from customs for June will be about $10,000,000. The average receipts under the McKinley law were $16,000,000, and from that up to $21,000,000 a month.

The treasury will not be in a healthy condition until it gets sufficient money to pay its current expenses, and the outlook for the coming fiscal year is of the most dismal character. All the estimates of the President and secretary of the treasury are fully $30,000,000 out of the way, and congress will be assembled in its fifty-fourth session before the deficiency will have disappeared, even under the most favorable circumstances.

It will be an interesting spectacle to see a Republican congress addressing itself to the odd task of supplying the government with sufficient revenue in the certainty that all such efforts will be fought by a Democratic minority and a Democratic executive.

So long as President Cleveland has power to pay the bills of the government with money borrowed from his friends at a costly premium, he will be in favor of allowing the country to drift on its present course.

It will not be surprising if the English bankers who made $9,000,000 out of the last bond deal should seize the opportunity afforded them with the close of the terms of their contract to draw the reserve gold back again into their coffers. This can be done without any trouble in the helpless condition of the treasury, and the fourth addition to the national debt under the Cleveland administration is likely to come before December.

The contention of the Republican leaders last winter that all the trouble in the management of the treasury arose from a lack of revenue has been proved to the uttermost. The Cleveland administration has suffered from a lack of means ever since the tariff system was threatened and the revenues have grown smaller at every stage in the Democratic progress toward free trade. None of the theories of the tariff reform movement have worked out to the benefit of the government and the American people.

Today is seen a gold reserve, which never should have been cut down, restored to $100,000,000 only after the unnecessary expenditure in bonds and interest of $265,843,886, together with a deficiency of nearly $50,000,000 in cash. In other words, the $100,000,000 reserve, which could have been maintained without cost had the Republican party continued in power, has been brought back to the original figure by Democratic management only after a loss of $336,000,000.

The Preservation of Foods.

The great advance in the preservation of foods is perhaps most clearly shown in a recent article in a French magazine. The article discusses the preserving of provisions from the military standpoint. It states that 40,000 rations of vegetables can be stored in a cubic space of 40 inches each way; that millions of rations of solid soups and preserved meats are continually stored in Paris, while the quantity of flour and biscuit is fabulous. Milk during the last siege of Paris was worth its weight in gold. Now the method of "pasteurizing" milk and putting it in hermetically sealed cans is found to preserve milk indefinitely and insures against suffering those classes of the community that suffer most from scarcity of milk—the feeble, aged and infants.

Compressed fodder and the silo system are the safeguards used by the government to protect animals in case of siege, while an enormous cold storage warehouse at La Villette insures fresh meats for a long period. The application of science to the food problem has reduced the perplexities of families living on small incomes, but it may force a complete change in military manoeuvers, starvation of the besieged being made almost impossible.—Outlook.

FIN DE SIECLE.

Oh, this is an end of the century tale,
Of the calm analytical passion
Of a man and a maiden who walked into love
In the end of the century fashion.

Now, perhaps you suppose that he read in her eyes
The secret message that made him grow bolder.
Not at all! 'Twas expressed in the bend of her back
And displayed in the set of her shoulder.

They talked about art and religion and suits
In a way condescending and airy.
They gave Mr. Kipling their qualified praise
And expressed their approval of Barrie.

And when, on occasion, they talked of their love
They analyzed all their sensations,
Dissecting poor love very neatly, because
They wanted to make observations.

But the end! Were they wed in the usual way?
Did fate their lives cruelly sever?
Oh, this is an end of the century tale
And has no end of ending whatever!

PAUSE AND THINK.

Our trials we could soften
If we'd only pause and think.
Tears would not flow so often
If we'd only pause and think.
Our skies would all be brighten
Our burdens all be lighter.
Our deeds would all be whiter
If we'd only pause and think.

We would not proceed so blindly
If we'd only pause and think.
We would never speak unkindly
If we'd only pause and think.
We would cease unrest to borrow,
Darkly clouding each tomorrow.
We could banish worlds of sorrow
If we'd only pause and think.

Court House Park Horror.

As the hour of 9 o'clock, Wednesday evening, was approaching, and the cascada were singing sweetly from their perch on the court house dome, a reporter of this paper whose auburn locks were being wafted to and fro in poetic ecstasy by the salty sea breeze, stood beside the running fountain, satisfied with himself and the world, reading the numerous signs (keep off the wet, etc.) that decorate the green foliage, he was rudely awakened from his dream by a hideous noise, and upon investigating found, near the band stand, W. Parker Lyon sitting on a cake of ice (cooling off for the parade on the 4th of July) belaboring a bass drum to the sweet strains of that profundo voice of R. M. Thompson, the bicycle dealer, who was practicing singing those stanzas of Trilby, while B. T. Scott had taken to the middle of the road with a pickle in each ear, paralyzed at the superiority of Victor Bicycles over all other makes—$105—R. M. Thompson is up to date.
